OVERVIEW

Griffin Group

Griffin was founded in 1997 as a healthcare products distributor but now operates across a range of technically demanding industries. Griffin is a lead supplier and key operator in energy, oil and gas, infrastructure development, healthcare, technology, trade and logistics, security solutions, travel and tourism, education and training and financial services. These industries have made demands on our own IT infrastructure and built our internal capacity to deliver practical IT solutions with the leading hardware and software available in the market today. This, in turn, has enabled us to build effective relationships with global leaders such as Adobe, CompTIA, Oracle and RedHat.

Prioritizing the needs of our stakeholders — our customers, employees and partners — is a way of life and business. In our experience, success comes from treating our clients with respect and consistently meeting their needs – and, as a result, 90% of our business is repeat business. We inspire confidence because we deliver over and above our customers' expectations. We empower our management teams to use their initiative and take responsibility, and respond quickly and efficiently to customer's needs.
